The following information is essential for your grave reservation;
please read and keep it safe.

- The responsibility lies with the purchaser to contact Truro City Council to renew the reservation and pay the relevant fee at the time of the ten-year expiry.
- If this is not renewed the grave (if a plot was allocated) WILL be used should Truro City Council deem necessary.
- The option of renewal is subject to capacity in the cemetery at the time of the ten-year expiry.
- Graves are dug in rotation and per section. At the time of reservation, you will have the choice of the next available plot, and receive a grave reference, or you will be allocated the next available plot at the time of interment.
- There may be occasions when Truro City Council need to contact you regarding your reservation plot; it is essential that you inform us of any change to your contact details.
- Should the grave be required during the ten-year period of reservation the full Exclusive Right of Burial fee (at the time) will be charged less the initial reservation fee. The purchaser, or person arranging the funeral, must also provide this reservation agreement and completed Exclusive Right of Burial and interment application forms.
- No refund will be given for any period of the ten-year reservation that is unused.
